Comprehensive Care & Air Conditioning Maintenance

The number one reason most homeowners have high electric bills and expensive AC repairs is due to lack of ongoing routine air conditioning maintenance in Queens, NY. Air conditioners are like any other form of machinery. They consist of moving parts which wear out of time. Best Air Conditioning NYC. Plumbing, Heating, and Air Conditioning can ensure that the necessary maintenance and upgrades are performed regularly. This keeps your system operating at peak performance and helps save you time and money in the long run.

What AC Maintenance Consist Of

Simply put, air conditioner maintenance is a smart investment for your home. By being proactive with your air conditioner you give your entire system longer life and avoid major air conditioning repairs down the road. Our AC service is comprehensive and covers every single component of your air conditioner. A short list of our maintenance service includes:

Lubrication and refilling all necessary fluids -- Ensuring that all moving parts such as belts, motors, compressors and other parts are operating correctly -- Inspecting all drainage tubes and checking for any blockage -- Checking refrigerant levels -- Identifying any leaks in the system -- Cleaning or Replacing old filters -- Evaluating and recalibrating your thermostat -- Observing any odd noises or odors coming from the unit -- Tightening all loose tube or wiring connections -- Checking additional items such as vents, pumps, and air ducts.

Peace of Mind with Air Conditioning Maintenance

Whether it's during the summer or winter, extreme temperatures are more than just an inconvenience. They are also a safety issue. One of the greatest benefits of ongoing, preventative maintenance on your air conditioner is knowing that when everyone else's systems go out, yours will keep operating with no problems at all. This keeps your family comfortable and safe when summer reaches its peak throughout July and August. It gives you peace of mind knowing your unit will be there for you when you need it most.

Trust Our Queens Air Conditioning Maintenance Pros

When you partner with New York HVAC NYC , you get the advantage of working with highly trained professionals in the field. ## PTAC (Packaged Terminal Air Conditioners) Units

PTAC Units Repair, Service, Replacement, Installation In New York,

Come to New York HVAC NYC for PTAC Repair in NYC

A Packaged Terminal Air Conditioning unit, or PTAC, is a type of self-contained heating and cooling system that's similar to a window unit. PTAC units are usually single-room temperature solutions, though they're usually larger than window units and therefore, capable of warming and cooling larger rooms and spaces in a more cost-efficient way.

PTAC systems are typically affordable and great for spaces where individual rooms require their own temperature controls, like hospitals, hotels, nursing homes, dormitories and residential buildings. Typically, PTAC units are highly reliable and will last for years. However, they will require repairs from time to time. When your PTAC unit needs a little extra care, New York HVAC NYC is here to help.

At New York HVAC NYC , we offer a full scope of NYC HVAC services (www.newyorkhvacnyc.com) including PTAC installations and PTAC repair in NYC. Whether we've installed your existing PTAC unit or not, we're happy to come by for maintenance, service and repair requests. We offer NYC PTAC repair services in Manhattan and the surrounding areas of New York City. So regardless of which borough you call home, count on New York HVAC NYC to be your trusted source for all your PTAC repair needs.

The Benefits of a PTAC Unit

PTAC units are known for having more flexibility than a standard central heat and air system, and they're also some of the most cost-effective heating and cooling solutions. They allow the temperature to be controlled in individual rooms, so there's no need to heat an entire floor or building – you can reduce heating and cooling costs by only turning on the heat or air conditioning only in rooms that are currently occupied. Many of these systems can be programmed with smart controls as well, which allow you to control the running times for the unit or pre-heat/cool a room before it's going to be used.

If you have a PTAC unit, regular maintenance can help keep it running in top shape and reduce the number of PTAC repairs you need to make long-term.

Ongoing PTAC Maintenance

The maintenance required to keep a PTAC unit in peak working condition is minimal, but it's still important to keep up with all regular and routine maintenance. By regularly changing any filters and having your system cleaned, you can reduce the need for any PTAC repairs and extend the life of your unit. Regular maintenance can also keep your unit running as efficiently as possible so you can keep maximizing your energy savings.

New York HVAC NYC is happy to service your PTAC units with regular maintenance. We'll clean your unit and replace the filter as-needed, and double check to ensure your system is working as it should before extreme summer and winter temperatures set in. If we do discover any issues, we're able to offer PTAC repair services to get your unit back into working order.

PTAC Repair in NYC Areas: Brooklyn, Queens, Manhattan and More

Because New York HVAC NYC has three centrally located warehouses and service centers in Manhattan, the Bronx and New Jersey, we're able to provide fast and reliable PTAC repair in Queens, Brooklyn, Manhattan and all the neighborhoods in and around New York City. When you call us for a PTAC repair in NYC request, it's likely we'll be able to fix any issues with your PTAC unit onsite when we make the repair visit. However, if your unit does require more extensive repairs, we'll take it back to our New York. Any equipment we take back to our service centers can be repaired and returned to you within two to three business days, so you never have to worry about going weeks without heat or air conditioning.

Choose New York HVAC NYC for Your PTAC Repair in NYC Needs

We've been providing quality PTAC repair in New York City and the surrounding neighborhoods for more than 50 years. Since we started our business in 1984, we've always put our customers and their needs first – that's why we'll always do a thorough assessment of your unit and recommend the PTAC repairs that are the most beneficial and cost-effective for you.

We pride ourselves on being the best NYC PTAC repair company, and it's a title we've earned by remaining steadfast in our commitment to providing fast maintenance and repairs you can count on.

The Best Equipment in the Business For PTAC Unit Repair in NYC

All our PTAC units are made by Simon-Aire, a New York City-based company that manufactures new and replacement PTAC units, parts and accessories. Simon-Aire uses the latest technology to create heating and cooling solutions that are of the highest possible quality – which is why they're the only PTAC manufacturer we trust. Their units also come with an industry-leading two-year warranty on all parts and labor and an additional four year warranty on the compressor part of your PTAC unit. That's up to six years of coverage in case something doesn't work the way it should.

Schedule Your PTAC Repair in NYC Today

If your PTAC unit isn't functioning properly, don't panic. Get in touch with New York HVAC NYC , and we'll get your equipment back to working order in no time. Our three locations in Manhattan, the Bronx and New Jersey allow us to respond to your heating and cooling concerns quickly. We can typically repair any issues with your PTAC unit on-site during our visit; but if your equipment needs further repairs, we can handle those in our Manhattan service center within two or three business days.

The Industry Standard in Gas PTAC's for Almost 30 Years

New York HVAC NYC feels proud to announce that we have been providing maintenance and replacement services of Suburban Dynaline PTAC units to prestigious customers of New York (Manhattan, Queens, Bronx, Brooklyn and Staten Island). We are one of the fewer companies of NYC having esteemed expertise in servicing the Suburban gas units. Suburban's original design concept and functioning is unique in itself as it combines economical gas heat and high efficiency electric air conditioning for year round savings and comfort.

New York HVAC NYC provides perfect fit replacement of various PTAC units with the standard Suburban Dynaline units. Our replacement service includes prior surveying, measuring sleeve sizes and unit specs followed by engineering specs comparison and informing the customer with formal price quotes and cut sheets. (i.e; The standard 42"x16" wall sleeve makes Dynaline 3 the right choice for new construction or replacement of the Islandaire EZ series GS).

We are specialized in maintenance of all kind of Suburban Dyaline PTAC units. For brief info for the readers; Dynaline* units are available in both natural gas and LP. Connections can be inside (front gas) or outside (rear gas) the room to better suit specific applications. Each unit is individually controlled so comfort levels can be set for each room or zone. The top-mounted controls provide for High and Low speeds in both heating and cooling modes, plus a fan only mode. The Dynaline 3 is set up to be run by either the unit mounted controls or a wall thermostat. Adjacent room kits are also available for multi-room applications.

New York HVAC NYC has been providing the service of the Suburban Dynaline for many years and we have successfully provided the requested service to our hundreds of happy customers. We are committed to continuously improve and sustain the quality of our services. PTAC Service Near Me is the source for gas fired PTAC's.

Four capacities of the Suburban Dynaline are available, all operating efficiently and economically utilizing R410A refrigerant:

What Is a PTAC Unit?

PTAC Units are packaged terminal air conditioners that are self-contained, blowing both warm and cool air. These units are mostly found in hotels, apartment buildings, senior homes, condominiums, and sunrooms.

The Importance Of PTAC Maintenance

We cannot stress enough to our customers the importance of cleaning your PTAC units regularly. When machines aren't properly maintained, they can create a mold that gets released into the air.

That's why New York HVAC NYC . offers a full range of PTAC maintenance services for your heating and cooling equipment. Our skilled technicians have the tools and resources needed to keep your PTAC unit running at peak efficiency. This way, you know that you will be easily able to control the temperature in your home at all times.

Plus, by relying on our team for your maintenance, you do not have to worry about trying to thoroughly clean the machine yourself. So when you are looking for reliable PTAC maintenance services for your home's heating and cooling equipment, trust our team to take care of the work.

Eco-Friendly Cleaning

Always mindful of the environment, we use odorless, eco-friendly chemicals in our PTAC services. This will not only clean it to keep it in like-new condition but also improve the air quality of the property's interior. This reduces the chance of residents becoming sick.

Ready To Work

We'll come to you ready to work, with parts needed for the most common repairs on our trucks. If the problem is more complex, such as a leak or it needs a steam clean, we'll take the machine to our shop, repair it, and reinstall it within two to three days.

Dedicated to Quality

Whether our team is maintaining your PTAC unit or installing a new one in your home, we always deliver high-quality work. Your satisfaction and comfort are our top priorities, which is why we work diligently to ensure your heating and cooling solutions are functioning correctly. Plus, when delivering our PTAC maintenance services, our team will always act with the utmost professionalism.

Furthermore, if we encounter any issues while performing your maintenance, our team will notify you right away and provide advice on the best options to get your PTAC unit up and running again.
