GENERATION TO GENERATION

GENERATION TO GENERATION

Mario Lepore came to the United States from Italy in 1950. Like his father before him he opened his first dry cleaner in Brooklyn and built up his business with hard work and integrity. He became very successful, because his tailoring skills were beyond compare. His wife, Anna, joined him in the business and they had a wonderful customer. In 1979 he moved his business to New Dorp Lane in Staten Island. The business continued to grow and thrive. Soon his wife and 3 children came to work at the business as well. They have been working there ever since. Even though Mario's son, Tony, has taken over the business, he continues to run the business the way her father did, to make the customer happy. Tony's wife, Anna, and their three children have been coming back for over 30 years, and have even brought their own children to work at the business. Every day, Mario's French Cleaners maintains the reputation of being one of the best dry cleaners in Staten Island.

WEDDING GOWN PRESERVATION

Your wedding gown never leaves our premises! Keep your wedding gown the precious heirloom it is with our on site cleaning and preservation. Bring your gown in within 2-3 days of your ceremony to prevent any stains setting in. Here at Mario's French Cleaners, we will ensure that your wedding-dress is in tip-top shape.

Jessica Baez

★★★★★

Recently picked up my daughters dress from being tailored on the waist and neck area. Everything fit like a glove. She did a perfect job. reasonable back.. than non you very much.

Anthony Dono

★★★★★

Old fashioned, family run business. Absolutely the best cleaner/tailor in the business. Alteration services are world-class. Excellent, delightful st

Ingrid Alvarez

★★★★★

Very friendly and helpful service. I got a dress cleaned and a leather jacket repaired, they look excellent now. Recently went in for a dress alteration and they could do the job. Will keep going back.

Phil Balzano

★★★★★

5 stars all the way! Been a patron of this business for 12 years. Everyone there is very accommodating, willing to go out of their way to make customers feel welcome. Never a problem, and they've always been ahead of schedule when I drop by early just to check while passing by on my way to other errands. Thank you!
